The IOSH Managing Safely course is run over 3 days. It is designed for managers and supervisors of organisations extending across the majority of industry sectors in order to provide an insight into what they might need to know to effectively manage health and safety in their workplace.

On successful completion of the IOSH Managing Safely course, delegates will have an understanding of the legal requirements for risk assessment and be able to identify hazards both generally, and from their organisation's perspective.

The IOSH Managing Safely syllabus covers relevant issues such as:

- The concept of "managing safely"
- Identifying health and safety hazards
- Assessing and controlling risks (risk assessment)
- Understanding your health and safety responsibilities (i.e. the legal framework)
- Incident and accident investigation
- Measuring performance
- Protecting the environment (environmental health and safety)

At the end of the IOSH Managing Safely course, delegates are required to undertake a multi-format assessment and a short workplace-based practical project. Delegates must complete their project and return it to the tutor within 14 days of the course completion. Those who successfully complete the assessments at the end of the course are awarded the official IOSH Managing Safely certificate.
